

Terms and Conditions

By submitting a photo to the Year of Community website, you agree to the following:

1. You confirm that the photo was taken by you.
2. You grant the Year of Community initiative the right to use your submission (first name, last name, title, short description, and photo) in its website and any other digital or printed materials. Credit will be given to you, the photographer, wherever the image is used.
3. Submission does not automatically guarantee a feature on the Year of Community's website.
4. Inclusion of your submission is at the discretion of the Year of Community team. Your submission may be selected based on its alignment with the initiative's values and goals.
5. You consent to your submission details (title and description) to be edited to align with the Year of Community's values and editorial standards, and translated to be featured in both English and Arabic on its website.
6. No compensation is provided for submissions or selected submissions.
7. The Year of Community reserves the right to reject inappropriate, commercial, AI-generated, or AI-modified content.
